BOY BANDITS STEAL 12 SACKS OF MAIL

Five Masked Youths at Point of Guns Take Letters

CAN'T ESTIMATE LOSS

Leader of Gang Forces Victims to Help; "Thanks, So Long," He Says —Speed Away in Auto.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Fifty city detectives and the entire force of postoffice inspectors are combing the city and suburbs for traces of the five young bandits who robbed the registered mail at the Union Station early this morning. Twelve "red" pouches were taken and not even the postal authorities know the loss. Last night it was stated at the post office that no heavy bank shipments of currency were in the pouches.

The mail was made up here for Minneapolis, St. Paul and all North Western cities to Seattle. No estimate of the loss can be made until the senders can be checked up. Postal authorities are of the opinion that it is an "inside job."

When the robbery took place there were between thirty and forty government railroad employes and bystanders within sight and hearing, but so calmly and xpeditiously did the bandits work that no inkling of what was going on reached them until the bandit automobile sped away.

A black touring car appeared and slowed down as it arrived beside the mail car truck which had been parked.

Three young men, one of them wearing an army overcoat, leaped out. Meanwhile four more railroad employees had come from the station and were waiting for the arrival of another expected truck. The mail robbers, hands trust in overcoat pockets, where bulges marked the presence of pistols, faced the eight startled government and railroad employees.

"Keep quiet, you guys," said one of the bandits quietly. "We're armed. Do as you're told and you won't get hurt."

One of the railroad employees started to raise his arms over his head. "Stop that," commanded the apparent leader of the gang. "Act natural." Then while one of the men, Cahill and four other railroad men were held on the sidewalk to divert possible suspicion, three of them, Carter, Sliney and Enright, were ordered to separate the registered from the unregistered mail pouches in the truck.

"Heave the sacks into our car," ordered the leader of the gang. "Be quick."

"Thanks," said the bandit chief, "so long." The bandits returned to their machine and sped off.

Thomas Carter, Richard U. Sliney and Phillip Cahill, postal employees, said the five men, none of whom appeared to be more than 20 years old, all wore black masks and carried out the robbery in such a short time that the attention of a watchman and a railroad mail foreman working nearby was not attracted until the robbers were speeding away in their car.

WOMAN TOO BIG FOR CELL

Richmond, Va., Jan. 19.—Archie C. Holt, lieutenant of police and an amateur wrestler, yesterday said he met his match in the person of Malinda Ogden, tipping the scale at 360, when he attempted to overpower her when she had been arrested at her home here on the charge of having cocaine in her possession unlawfully. Finding the task insurmountable, Holt sent out the S. O. S. and another policeman rushed to his assistance. The two officers together managed to get a strangle hold on her, pinning her to the floor. Fearing that they might need a derrick to get their prisoner into a patrol wagon, the policemen decided to walk her to the first district station. When she proved too bulky to get thrugh a cell door, they permitted her to sit on the outside until she furnished bail. Her case went over yesterday until January 22.

CHICAGO BARONESS SUES AUSTRIAN FOR DIVORCE

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Baroness Cecilie Young De Korwin, daughter of the late Otto Young, pioneer millionaire merchant, yesterday filed suit for divorce in the Superior Court against her husband, Baron Joseph De Korwin. The Baroness charges that her husband deserted her in Paris eight years ago.

Baron De Korwin who was a captain in the Austrian army when the war broke out, last month applied for a court order requesting the custody of his 8 year old son whom he claimed he had not seen since 1914.

The principals in the case gained attention in 1918 when Federal authorities investigated the Young estate said to have been worth $5,000,000, with the intent of confiscating it under the Alien Property act. The Baroness, however, was exempted on the ground that she had separated from her husband at the beginning of the war.

FEUL OVER DUTY ON SUGAR FLARES UP AGAIN IN HOUSE

Washington, Jan. 19.—Criticism of the Government's methods of sugar distribution during the war, with a practically unanimous appeal of cane sugar growers for a protective duty, marked consideration by the House Ways and Means Commitee today of revision of the Underwood Tariff act as it applies to sugars, molasses and syrups.

Practically the entire day was given over to testimony of conditions in the cane belt of the South, but representatives of several refiners, among them former Representative John J. Fitzgerald, of New York, were among the witnesses and they stirred up the old time strife between producers and refiners.

Representatives of the beet sugar interests are to be heard tomorrow. Their appearance, with that of a few more refiners, it is planned, will conclude hearings on Schedule E.

The regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the hall of the Dreadnaught Athletic Club. All applicants for membership are requested to bring their discharge with them.

SENTIMENT GROWS AGAINST TROLLY LINE

"Not One Cent Increase For The R. R., Magnetes" Is The Unanamous Opinion Of All Of The Commuters

WHY DO THEY ASK INCREASE?

The True Valuation of Their Holdings Should be Thoroughly Investigated by the Attorneys Who Will Represent the People—Never Before In History of City Have People Been so Aroused—City Council and Citizens' Association Meet Tonight — Everybody Should Attend Mass Meeting at Chamber of Commerce Friday Night.

Sentiment against the proposition of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company to increase the price of its round trip to Washington to forty-eight cents is becoming more pronounced each day. That the commuters and citizens generally are stirred up beyond expression over this bold attempt on the part of the trolley barons is but expressing it mildly. Not one cent increase should they get is the opinion of every commuter.

Suggestions as to how to go about defeating the trolley company in its efforts are flying thick and fast.

Many point out that any company can so capitalize their business that they can show on paper how they are not making one per cent dividend on their investment.

Those who look at the proposition from this angle say that a fair valuation for the actual property of the road is what is needed to determine the rate. They are of the opinion that should this be determined upon by disinterested experts the company at the prevailing rates should show a yield in dividends of far greater proposition than any public service corporation in this section of the United States.

Many say that inasmuch as other trolley lines under greater expense than this company are now selling trips at a greater reduction than this line and making money there is no earthly reason why this company should at this time seek to increase the fare. Just what is behind this movement on the part of the company is known only to the officials of the company. They, of course, will be represented by able legal counsel when the hearing takes place before the Interstate Commerce Commission who will be furnished with a mass of figures carefully compiled by experts showing they cannot make money on the existing rate.

This, of course, will be based on whatever their capital stock is.

Counsel for the various agencies doubtless also will be equipped with facts and figures to combat their arguments.

A called meeting of the city council will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight to take action against the railway company and help the citizens defeat this proposition. They will doubtless authorize the employment of legal counsel to fight the measure.

The Citizens' Association at its meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the Pythian Temple also will take action against the road and appoint a committee to arrange to co-operate with committees from the commuters and other organizations that will join hands in the fight against this high fare that the road seeks to burden the poor commuters with.

As heretofore stated in the Gazette a public mass meeting to which everybody is invited will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night in the rooms of the chamber of commerce when plans for the fight against the trolley company will be formulated and the membership of the commuters association added to. Every man, woman and child in the city of Alexandria who patronizes this line should gladly join the association. This is no time to shirk. The welfare of your pocketbook, your family and your home is at stake. Act with out delay and see that the road is beaten and gets not one cent increase.

BOY, 9, TRIES TO CONVINCE POLICE, HE KILLED MOTHER

Pittsburgh, Jan. 19.—Hardly realizing the enormity of the offense, but ready to save his father at any cost, 9 year old Albert Troy, in Center Avenue Police Station last night, confessed to the killing of his mother, steadfastly adhering to his story until police grilling broke the boy's spirit. Then he said his father, Walter C. Troy, aged 30, former Pennsylvania Railroad special policeman, had fired the fatal shots.

The wife, Mrs. Marie Troy, aged 28, mother of three children, besides Albert, was killed in the bedroom of her home, 65 Rowley street, shortly before last midnight, a bullet entering her heart.

Saved by Knowing Telegraphy When Locked in Vault

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—Locked for nearly six hours in an hermetically sealed concrete and steel vault in the city treasurer's office last night, a knowledge of the Morse telegraph code probably saved the life of Arthur Brenner, assistant city treasurer, it became known yesterday. A mouse, locked in at the same time, failed to survive.

Brenner entered the vault,a room 15 feet square and 20 feet high, just before closing time yesterday. While he was there the big steel doors swung shut. He shouted for help without attracting notice.

Brenner slept for a while, with his face as near the bottom of the door as possible on the assumption that a slight amount of air might get through at that point. When he woke, his hand touched a wooden slat Remembering that Charles Hockwald, a night watchman, also could telegraph, he pounded out in Morse: "I am locked in."

"Will get help," came the answer from Hockwald, who telephoned for a man who knew the combination of the vault.

New Express Line

To Handle Business on Southern Railway Beginning March 1

The Southern Railway announced last night from its headquarters here that the express business over its lines and those of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad would be handled after March 1 by the Southeastern Express Company, a new company recently organized under the laws of Alabama.

The company has a capital of $1,000,000, and the announcement said it was owned by Southern business men. It will have headquarters in Atlanta, with John B. Hockaday as president. Mr. Hockaday was formerly vice president and general manager of the old Southern Express Company, and he succeeds Captain Charles A. Lyerly, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The Southern is the first large system to refuse service on its lines to the American Railway Express Company, the permanent organization of which by merger of the Southern, American, Wells Fargo and Adams companies, was approved recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Chautauqua Notes

Association to be in Alexandria Next Year—Promoters Feast in Quaker City

At the conference and dinner held to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association, which event took place on Friday, January 7, at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia, the key note which was sounded by practically every speaker was the great power latent in the Chautauqua movement as a molder of public opinion in the United States.

After the opening remarks by Charles F. Jenkins, the President of the Board of Managers, Dr Thomas E. Green, Director of the Speaker's Bureau of the American Red Cross, who has just recently returned from Europe, gave a moving address at the evening banquet in which he named the Chautauqua movement as the most powerful force in America today in holding, what he called the three most important out posts of our civilization. He said that Chautauqua, reaching the great number of people it does every year combines the power of the press and of the church, and the power of Chautauqua to mold public opinion is greater than either of these or both together.

Dr. Green's outposts as he named them were health, education and international good will.

The Chautauqua will be in this city next July for the third season.

TARIFF HOPES FADE IN NEW ENGLAND

Protectionists Find Banking Interests Approve Wall Street Against Europe

FARMERS JOIN FIGHT

Combination Regarded by Manufacturers as Too Strong to Combat—Woolen Men May Fight

Boston, Jan. 19.—Because big banking interests wish to give Europe an opportunity to pay the enormous debt, as yet unfunded, the high protective tariff interests of New England almost have abandoned their hope of a new tariff law as stiff, if not stiffer, than the Payne-Aldrich bill. With the banking interests against them, and Republican farmers in the Middle West also opposed to a high tariff, they see their Waterloo.

In this connection, the chief executive of an important group in the Home Market Club made the following statement:

"The bankers are opposed to any law that will keep goods out and prevent Europe paying the $3,500,000,000 of unfunded debts on their books or in their hands and the other billions owed American corporations, firms or individuals direct. They cannot see how this debt can be paid or normalcy in trade returned unless we are prepared to take goods from Europe.

"Stating it otherwise, the bankers have turned free traders. The farmers of the Middle West and Northwest are likewise against high duties on manufactured articles. These interests taken together are unbeatable. It is therefore clear to those who have dug into the matter that we will have to be content with a low tariff.'

"We have, as a matter of truth," a prominent cotton factor said, "nothing to fear in competition from England. Time was before the war when we did. Now English labor costs so much more than it did that it is not to be feared.

"Germany just now is not a factor and will not be a year or two, perhaps more. Once Germany gets on her feet, however, there will be another story to tell. It may be, and some of us think the way out is to wait until that time comes and then meet it."

In the woolen trades there is manifested a tendency to fight.

"We may be compelled to meet stiff opposition on cheaper woolens," a trade leader says, "but we need not worry at this time about the finer goods. Just now at least England cannot beat us on the better grades."

The protectionists, however, will not yield without a hard fight. For that matter, just now only what might be termed the most progressive of their leaders are taking the position that a little is better than none.

This spirit of compromise, or rather of the necessity of compromise, is illustrated by the present position of the dye makers. A feature of their protection scheme included a system of licenses on all dye imports. Now the larger makers are prepared to abandon this feature as one likely to make trouble if insisted upon too strongly.

ROBERT E. LEE'S BIRTHDAY.

Washington, in 1771 wrote as follows: "I know of no country that can produce a family all so distinguished as clever men, as our Lees." It is seldom that a family can trace an unbroken line of distinguished individuals as far back as the 11th century. The family of Robert E. Lee is one of the few families in this country or in Europe that is thus able to trace its geneology. By the side of Norman William fought Lancelot Lee at the battle of Hastings. By the side of Richard Coeur de Lion went crusading Lionel Lee, and made valiant fight at the siege of Acre. And from the eleventh century down to the emigration of the first American of that name, the Lees went to the wars, followed the chase, and managed their estates like other English gentlemen, often taking a distinguished part in the history of their country and always a noble and high-minded one.

Colonel Richard Lee, the first of his family to emigrate to America, is described as being a man of good stature, of comely visage, enterprising genius, a sound head, vigorous spirit, and generous nature. His eldest son, John, a graduate of Oxford University, died unmarried, and Richard, the second son, also a graduate of Oxford in the law, succeeded to the family estate in Westmoreland. His eldest son, Richard, the third of that name, married and settled in London, although his children subsequently returned to Virginia. Thomas Lee the fourth son of the third Richard, became president and commander-in-chief of the colony and was finally appointed governor by the King. He married Hannah Ludlow, and built Stratford, an imposing country mansion, within whose historic walls were to be born two signers of the Declaration of Independence, and the illustrious Robert E. Lee, whose birth-anniversary today will be commemorated all over the south.

Richard Henry Lee was styled the Cicero of the American Revolution, and with his brother, Francis Lightfoot, signed the Declaration of Independence. Henry Lee, the famous "Light-Horse Harry" of the Revolution was the father of Robert E. Lee and a second cousin of Richard Henry and Francis Lightfoot Lee. He was distinguished as a brilliant and dashing cavalry leader, and especially beloved of his commander, the great Washington,—who it was said, was once an unsuccessful suitor for the hand of Light-horse Harry's mother, Lucy Grymes. After the revolution he rose to be governor of Virginia, was subsequently elected to Congress, and while a member of that body delivered the eulogy on his revered commander which contained that undying phrase, "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

It was from this great man that Robert E. Lee inherited his intense devotion to his native state. In 1792, on being tendered the command of an army on the Western Frontier, he replied: "No consideration on earth could induce me to act a part, however gratifying to me, which could be construed into disregard or faithlessness to this commonwealth." Seventy years later his son was to meet the same question, and to answer it by unsheathing his untarnished sword in defense of his cherished motherland, Virginia.

Such were the Lees, ancestors of the immortal hero whose name has added imperishable lustre to the pages of American history. We have chosen in our editorial commemoration today to give this genealogical summary rather than to attempt a biographical delineation. This latter will be eloquently portrayed tonight by the brilliant speakers chosen by the R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans for their banquet in observance of the day, Hon. Chas. M. Steadman, of North Carolina, and our Congressman, Hon. R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax.

THAT RAILWAY RAISE

For the past two years all commodities have been abnormally high. Wages have kept pace with commodities, if you choose to to classify them separately. That is to say, in 1919 and 1920 raw materials and manufactured goods, and labor as well, cost more than in ordinary times. But at the end of 1920, owing to the insistent demand of the consumer, to the universal clamor of the newspapers, and to other causes, as well, the organic law of supply and demand began to function again, as in normal periods. Prices everywhere took a downward trend; labor modified its demands, and voluntarily accepted reductions in wages, in order that the wheels of industry might be kept turning. Now, at this very time, when every manufacturer and merchant in the land is getting rid of his surplus stock at lower prices than for years; when the people are beginning to breathe more freely and to spend more freely, as price begins to conform to income—at this very time comes the Washington-Virginia Railway Company and petitions the Interstate Commerce Commission for a raise in its rates, to be wrung from the unwilling and luckless passengers upon its line. Most of these daily and weekly travelers are persons of modest incomes. To pay the new fares sought, means either a heavy expense in moving to Washington, where quarters are almost impossible to obtain, and where living is much higher than in Alexandria and its suburban additions—or, where possible, a curtailment in the number of trips. To the daily commuter whose employment is in Washington, this last is impossible. He must go to Washington to live. He must move his family and his furniture. He cannot pay the exorbitant rates now sought to be imposed by the Railway Company. He has no choice but to move. Many of these people have bought their unpretentious homes on the instalment plan. They have scrimped and pinched and saved, and denied themselves and gone without, for months or years, that they might satisfy that hunger of the average American to own his home. But along comes the Railway Company, with the arrogance sometimes begotten of monopoly and avarice and says: "You must pay us more money. We need the dividends on our stock; the interest on our bonds and our notes. Pay or move!" There can be but one answer,—the commuters must move and the other passengers must travel less frequently.

Now, we believe that an examination of the Railway Company's books for 1919 and 1920 will show that after paying the interest on their various obligations, they still had a surplus. We believe that with their passenger revenue, their special car revenue, their mail revenue, their milk revenue, and their freight, and their other revenue—their books will show gross receipts amply sufficient to pay their operating expenses, their cost of maintenance, their taxes, their bonded and note interest and still leave a balance. This, mind you, in 1919 and 1920. If this be true, and we dare them to deny it, in 1921 their surplus should be even greater. The trend of this year is towards lower prices in every commodity on any market.

As intimated in our editorial of yesterday, the citizens of Alexandria and suburbs are not interested in dividends to stockholders, preferred or common, especially if the stock has been unwarrantably watered. With prices falling, the plain duty of the Railway Company is to retrench, to economize, and by sound management earn their dividends and not seek to make their patrons pay them by unfair and exorbitant rates.

We have just a word of advice to be given to this Washington-Alexandria Railway Company, and we may as well give it here: A public utility corporation in the past has had but few friends. Nor is this to be wondered at, since many of them have followed in the footsteps of a certain newly-rich Vanderbilt, who said "the public be damned." But the modern policy of great and successful corporations is the exact reverse. The great masters of modern business in America seek ceaselessly to please the public; their task by night and day is to find out how they can give the people still more for even less. A public utility like the Washington-Virginia Railway Company should be even more bound to this policy. That company needs friends—many friends—all the friends it can get. It is the servant of the people, not their master. Its very existence depends upon their good will. It cannot survive without it. The people of the cities and communities, once they rise in their might, can find legal means to compel it to do their bidding. If the necessary laws do not now exist, depend upon it, gentlemen of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company, the people will put them on the statute books themselves.

How One Woman Helped Another

Foley Kidney Pills are bought in every state in the Union by men and women on the recommendation of those who already have been relieved of kidney trouble and bladder ailments by this sterling family remedy. Comparatively little advertising has been done for Foley Kidney Pills, yet they are well known, and those who know their splendid healing properties never accept an imitation or substitute for the genuine Foley.

Pains Banished; Health Restored

In September, 1913 I was stricken with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. I was under the care of a physician but obtained no relief. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills; said she had been similarly afflicted and they had relieved her. So I tried them, and after taking three bottles was well and on my feet. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills. I have never known them to fail.—Mrs. G. H. Zreland, Duncan Mills, Ill.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

aid and assist nature. They strengthen and invigorate weak or diseased kidneys and help to keep the blood clean and pure, relieving backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, stiff or swollen joints, sore muscles, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and other symptoms of kidney trouble or bladder disorders.

CABINET ALL PICKED, HARDING TIPS BISHOP

Philadelphai, Jan. 19.—President-elect Harding told Bishop Joseph F. Berry, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, that his Cabinet is made up that its personnel is complete.

The senior bishop of American Methodism returned to this city yesterday after conducting a week of special services in Galion, Ohio. Last Friday Bishop Berry went over to Marion and spent the afternoon with the President-elect.

Bishop Berry said yesterday: "Harding told me he had his Cabinet selected and could make known his appointments tomorrow if he saw fit to do so"

Bishop Berry said he found the President-elect to be "a quiet, dignified man, but one of forceful decision and strength of character."

The bishop added that his talk with the President-elect convinced him that an entirely wrong impression of Harding had been circulated through the country.

"Most men seem to have an impression Harding is rather vacillating," Bishop Berry continued. "If any one thinks that the next President is weak and unduly impressionable he is going to get a jolt."

$1,275,000 FORTUNE LEFT BY HUMBLE COW DEALER

Boston, Jan. 19.—Talking cows, driving cows and trading cows, with a few hours' perusal of newspapers in the evening, made up the life of Jonathian Maynard Parmenter, Wayland's eccentric millionaire, who died a week ago.

When Mr. Parmenters will was filed at East Cambridge yesterday it was found, to the surprise of neighbors and friends, that he left an estate valued at $1,275,000.

For 89 years Parmenter lived a narrow, provincial life in the farmhouse in which he was born and died, his sole interest being in the cattle business, which he entered when a young man, together with his brother Henry, who died 15 years ago, leaving Jonathian sole heir.

SOUTH MAY GET PLACE IN NEW CABINET

Miami, Fla., Jan. 19.—Fred W. Upham, of Chicago, treasurer of the Republican National Committee said here yesterday that one and possibly two members of the Harding Cabinet would be from the South. Mr. Upham, who has conferred frequently with Mr. Harding since his election, added that it might be necessary "to rob" the Senate to make the appointment of one. He refused to mention any names.

It's criminal to take a chance on any substitute for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes, of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

CALOMEL HORROR TOLD BY DODSON

You Don't Need to Sicken Gripe, or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated. You feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.

HAS NEVER SEEN THE EQUAL OF IT

Danville Man Tells of Wife's Wonderful Recovery Since Taking Tanlac

"Well, sir, I have never in my life seen anything to equal the way Tanlac restored my wife's health after everything else had failed," said R. B. Taylor, of 129 East Stokes St., Danville, Va.

"At the time my wife began taking Tanlac," said Mr. Taylor, "she was almost past going. For three months she had been unable to eat or sleep to do any good and was so weak and nervous she felt miserable all the time. Her muscles ached constantly, she could hardly walk from one room to another and her feet burned like fire. Many a night she got up and sat in a chair because she couldn't sleep. Nothing helped her and she became very low-spirited and I was completely at a loss what to do next.

"But the turning point came when I got her a bottle of Tanlac, for she improved right from the start. She has now taken three bottles, is strong and well, has gained several pounds in weight, is in fine spirit and never complains of an ache or a pain. Actually she looks better and says she feel better than ever before in her life. There is nothing too good for us to say about Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Edgar Warfield Jr., and good druggists everywhere.

Sometimes you find something in the Gazette's Classified Columns you want and didn't know it. Read them daily.

Information of Priceless Value to Every Alexandria Citizen

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Alexandria citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Guy Pettit, railroad engineer, 114 Commerce St., Alexandria, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a number of years and they have done me so much good I wouldn't be without them. I usually carry a box of Doan's with me because my kidneys are apt to get out of order This is from the jarring of the engine However I only have to use a few of Doan's Kidney Pills and I am not bothered any more."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pettit had. Foster-Milburn Co Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SPORTS

Despite the cold weather Armory Hall was well heated and the fair sized crowd that witnessed the basket ball game between Fitzgerald Council and Washington Council in the Knights of Columbus League Tuesday night, were well repaid as an excellent exhibition of basket ball was given. The first half ended with the visiting team leading by a score of 16 to 8 but in the second half the local "Caseys" came back strong and gradually overcame the score and forged ahead by one point and won the game by a score of 24 to 23. The whole Fitzgerald team played an excellent game but the basket shooting of Hoy and the defensive work of Lieut. "Sinner" Hayden are deserving of special mention. For the visiting team Tommy Degnan starred. Summary of game:

| Fitzgerald | | Washington |
|---|---|---|
| Hoy | LF | Garifola |
| Williams | RF | Degnan |
| Whitestone | C | Corbley |
| Hayden | LG | Veeman |
| Shuman | RG | Moran |

Goals Hoy 6, Williams 2, Hayden 2, Whitestone 2, Garafola 4, Degnan 4, Veeman 1. Goals from free toss, Degnan 6. Time of halves 20 minutes Referee Mr. Jack Sullivan.

NOTHING WRONG EXCEPT "RUN DOWN"

Heart All Right—Lungs All Right But Blood Weak

No Energy or Enthusiasm

That's When You Need Pepto-Mangan The Red Blood Builder

When you feel weak, and almost sick, see a doctor and find out what is wrong.

It may be a serious illness. But in many cases the doctor finds nothing really wrong except a general run-down condition due to the need of stronger, richer blood.

For over thirty years physicians have recommended Gude's Pepto-Mangan to restore weakened blood to its normal healthy state.

PeptoMangan imparts to the blood the elements it needs to build up vigorous men and women. Children whose blood is impoverished become listless and pale and fail to romp. Pepto-Mangan creates a supply of nourishing red blood that makes the cheeks glow, the eyes sparkle and brings back the energy for play or studies.

Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in liquid or tablet form, whichever proves most convenient. Both forms possess identical medicinal qualities.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan and that is "Gude's". Ask your druggist for "Gude's" and look for the name "Gude's" on the package, If it is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

In a furnished room occupied by Collins was a bank book, showing a balance of 87 cents. Collins' body remained unclaimed at the morgue several days. Keer attributed Collins' loss of fortune to speculations.

Collins' father, who died fifteen years ago, left a two million dollar estate. Collins' former residence at Strordsburg was the show place of the city.
